INSTRUCTORS

NICO LAGARDE

An accomplished actress, dancer, director, choreographer, dramaturgy advisor, and movement expert, Nico Lagarde possesses a unique knowledge and a radiant presence that captivates all. Her versatility extends across various mediums, including cinema, theater, and circus, excelling not only in interpretation but also in coaching and direction.

Nico's brilliance first graced the cinema and theater with notable performances in productions like «Monsieur Lazar,» «Ressac,» «Diego Star,» «Traffik Femme,» and «Souffleur de verre.» Rediscovered today as a coach and director, she brings over 40 years of experience in the arts to her teaching and creative endeavors.

With a multidisciplinary approach, Nico engages circus artists fully, fostering creativity and productivity at every project stage. Her rigorous yet inclusive working method aims to craft powerful visual imagery, precise and varied spatial utilization, infused with a sense of rhythm, high performance, and poetic sensitivity.

Since 2011, Nico's journey in the circus realm includes teaching at institutions like L'ENC and L'ENACR, along with creative collaborations with prestigious companies such as Cirque du Soleil, Eloize, Cirque la Compagnie, Cirque Monti, Collectif A4, Machine de Cirque, and La Putika. Notably, her contributions to spectacles like «Drawn to Life,» «Ghost Light,» and «Pandax» showcase her significant impact in the circus world.

For several years, an exceptional artistic collaboration has flourished between André St-Jean and Nico La Garde. Together, they have crafted a distinctive approach to tackling high performance and nuanced interpretation in the circus, aiming to transcend technical boundaries and elevate circus into a fully-fledged art form. Their creative synergy reflects a shared quest, merging expertise and sensitivity to redefine the boundaries of artistic expression in the world of circus.

PROGRAM

Each training day consists of several approximately 1.5-hour phases:

- ▶ Trampoline Technique
- ▶ Teeterboard Acrobatics Technique
- ▶ Artistic Research on the apparatus
- ▶ Collaborative Writing for a group presentation

ANDRÉ ST-JEAN

A versatile figure as an artist, coach, professor, acrobatic designer, and collaborator in directing, André St-Jean stands as one of the foremost experts in teeterboard to date. Masterful in conveying the intricacies of the planchist profession, he also specializes in various disciplines, including trampoline, wall tramp, Russian bar, banquine, columns, German wheel, and Cyr wheel.

With over 40 years of experience in acrobatics and the circus, this high-level athlete cultivated his taste for risk and performance by initiating his training and career in urban settings, competitive trampolining, and street arts, eventually leading him to the gates of Cirque du Soleil. With over a decade of performances under the iconic blue and gold big top, André brings a wealth of experience.

Today, as a coach and collaborator, he instills complete confidence in acrobats, transmits a passion for precision, and values teamwork and mutual respect. Intuitive, persuasive, and perceptive, André guides each artist with respect, rigor, and generosity, reading the capacities and limits of apprentices. His extensive expertise and commitment to artistic reflection make him one of the most sought-after trainers by numerous circus schools and companies (ENC, ENACR, Codart, ANT-Artistes en devenir, CNAC, Cirque Le Roux, Cirque du Soleil, Les 7 doigts, Éloize, Machine de Cirque, Cirque la Compagnie, etc.), distinguishing him as an exceptional collaborator.
